

CMEA Professional Development Day for Urban Music Educators

hosted by the University of Bridgeport's Music Education Program

Building on the success of 2016's event, which attracted almost a hundred music educators, this day of professional development aims to connect, inspire, challenge, and edify teachers in urban schools. Come enjoy sessions by leading urban music educators, an inspiring keynote speech by Nicholas Lewis, lunch, and networking! Leave with new ideas, perspectives, and understandings, and the tools to begin implementing them Monday morning!

Presenters include:

Nicholas Lewis
professional clarinetist, Dean of Students at Yale Divinity School

Dr. Joe Abramo, University of Connecticut
Dr. Cara Bernard, University of Connecticut
Lauren Bowers, Hartford Public Schools
Melanie Champion, East Hartford Public Schools
Dan Kinsman, New Haven Public Schools Dr.
Frank Martignetti, University of Bridgeport

Saturday, February 10, 9 AM-3 PM

Arnold Bernhard Center for the Arts & Humanities
University of Bridgeport
84 Iranistan Avenue
Bridgeport, CT 06604

$30 for CMEA Members
$35 for nonmembers
Full time students free

Lunch is provided

Register now through February 2nd! REGISTRATION LINK

UNIVERSITY OF BRIDGEPORT

Opening doors. Building futures.